HONEYWELL APPOINTS GIZA SYSTEMS AS SYSTEMS INTEGRATOR FOR EGYPT AND NORTH AFRICA

Agreement Extends Honeywell Solutions Portfolio to Emerging Regions

CAIRO, Egypt, July 20, 2011 – Honeywell (NYSE:HON) today announced that it has signed a systems integration agreement with Giza Systems to extend Honeywell’s presence in Egypt and surrounding African countries. The agreement will enable Honeywell Process Solutions (HPS) to establish a stronger local presence beyond its traditional installed base in the region.

Together, HPS and Giza Systems will address all industrial sectors and fulfill customer needs by providing highly efficient and reliable services based on local support and expertise from Giza Systems, with global back-up from HPS. Giza Systems will also provide expert consultancy and give customers the ability to integrate a number of additional HPS products and solutions into their existing process systems including Experion® Process Knowledge System \(PKS\), OneWireless™, fire and gas solutions, emergency shutdown control, field solutions, SCADA, and a selection from its Advanced Solutions portfolio.

“Our agreement with HPS will enable our end users in Egypt and surrounding countries to benefit from our combined strengths,” said Shehab ElNawawi, Chairman and Managing Director, Giza Systems. “With the local industrial process demand representing up to $50 million in expenditure per year, local and regional companies will now have local access to experts in the field, as well as the best portfolio of process control solutions available today.”

“Local integration is an important part of reaching and understanding our customers’ needs and processes throughout the world,” said Chris Dartnell, vice president and general manager, strategic geographies, Honeywell Process Solutions. “Working with Giza Systems—the No. 1 systems integrator in Egypt—will not only bridge this gap but also help HPS to expand its business in the region.”
